Call for Articles

Please consider sharing the wonderful things you do in your classroom and any reflections on the conference with English Teachers across the state. The Needle's Eye is looking for articles for our next publication. Our first publication for the 2008-2009 school year is scheduled to hit the presses on October 31. It is not too late to submit your article for our first edition this year.

Help spread the truth through non-fiction!!!
